Infra-red printer adapter

Print directly via infra-red!

This infra-red printer adapter ACT-IR100M enables wireless printing directly from your MC 218 to your printer, while still allowing you to print from your desktop PC. So much more convenient than plugging and unplugging a printer cable or printing via a PC!

- Ideal for an office as several MC 218 users can print on the same printer without disconnecting its lead.
- Easy to install: it fits directly onto the standard parallel port on your printer and is powered by a DC adapter cable which is supplied.

- Printing via the PC is unaffected and the adapter automatically detects printer problems and holds data transmission to prevent data loss, then resumes later. The adapter is compatible with multiple IR standards so is also useful for printing from Laptop computers or other PDA's.
