

OPEN YOUR EYES ON VIVISECTION!

Every year 3 million animals die in laboratories in England, about one million in Italy and 17 million in the USA .

These figures are very disconcerting; until some years ago, many people couldn't imagine what the scientists were doing in their secret laboratories, but now time has come to open our eyes on this subject! Animals are used for testing cosmetic products, medicines, products for cleaning the house etc.

economic interests lie behind this choice?

First of all their vocal chords are cut , to prevent them from shouting, then they are poisoned and forced to swallow cream and make-up, blinded, squashed, submitted to electric discharges...all without anaesthesia. Who is the beast ?

The doctors themselves admit that many of these experiments are useless, because man is different from animals, and they add that substitutive methods (but more expensive) exist, like tests on human cells.

So, why in 2002 this mass extermination is still legal? What secret
